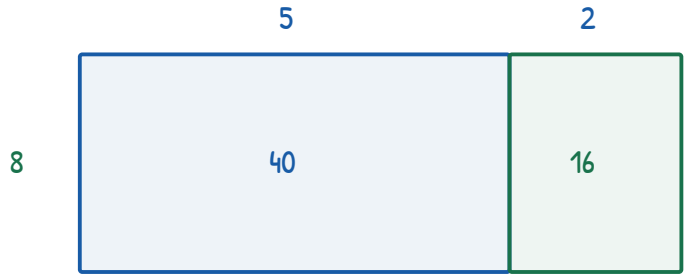
Break apart a factor

I can... use facts I know to find a new product.

Split 7 groups into 5 + 2



7 × 8 = (5 × 8) + (2 × 8)

Combine the two products

40 + 16 = 56

Keep the groups equal

Both parts still use groups of 8. Splitting a factor does not change the total number of objects.